Instrumentation

2 Flutes
(Flute II doubling on Piccolo)
1 Oboe
2 Clarinets
1 Bassoon

2 French Horns
2 Cornets (or Trumpets)
2 Trombones

Percussion (1 player):
Timpani, Triangle, Side Drum, Bass Drum & Cymbals

Violin I
Violin II
Viola
Violoncello
Double Bass

In the autograph score of The Mikado, Sullivan wrote the horn parts in a variety of different keys and the cornet parts in A and B $\flat$ -flat but, in keeping with modern practice, the horn parts in this score have been transposed for Horn in F and the cornet parts have been transposed for Trumpet in B $\flat$.

The bass clef has been used only sparingly in the horn parts and, where its use was found to be unavoidable, the obsolete convention that such notes should sound a fourth higher than written has not been adopted.

The musical score is written for a full orchestra. The tempo is marked 'Allegro moderato'. The key signature has one flat (B-flat). The time signature is common time (C). The score is divided into two systems. The first system includes the woodwinds (Flutes, Oboe, Clarinets, Bassoon), brass (Horns, Trumpets, Trombones), and percussion (Bass Drum & Cymbals). The second system includes the strings (Violins, Violas, Violoncellos, Double Basses). The woodwinds and strings play a melodic line, while the brass and percussion provide harmonic support. The bass drum plays a rhythmic pattern of eighth notes. The score is marked with 'f' (forte) at the beginning of the first system and 'I.' at the beginning of the second system.

Detailed description of the musical score: The score is for measures 105 through 112. It features a variety of instruments including woodwinds, brass, strings, and triangle. The key signature has two flats (Bb and Eb). The time signature is not explicitly shown but appears to be 4/4 based on the notation. The score includes trills (tr), tremolos (tr), and sustained notes. Dynamics include forte (f) and piano (p). The instruments are arranged in a standard orchestral layout. The Flute I part has trills and a forte dynamic. The Piccolo part has a forte dynamic. The Oboe part has trills and a forte dynamic. The Clarinet Bb part has a forte dynamic and a second ending (a 2). The Bassoon part has a forte dynamic. The Horn F part has a forte dynamic. The Trumpet Bb part has a forte dynamic. The Trombone part has a forte dynamic. The Triangle part has a forte dynamic. The Violin I part has trills and a forte dynamic. The Violin II part has trills and a forte dynamic. The Viola part has a forte dynamic. The Violoncello part has a forte dynamic. The Double Bass part has a forte dynamic.

Detailed description of the musical score: The score is for measures 153 to 158. The key signature has two flats (B-flat and E-flat). The time signature is not explicitly shown but appears to be 4/4. The instruments and their parts are as follows: Flute I (Fl.I) and Piccolo (Picc.) play a melodic line starting in measure 154 with a forte (f) dynamic, featuring trills (tr) in measures 156 and 157. Oboe (Ob.) also plays this melodic line. Clarinet in B (Cl. (B)) and Bassoon (Bsn.) play a harmonic line, with the Clarinet in B marked a 2 in measure 156. Horn in F (Hn. (F)) is silent. Trumpet in B (Tpt. (B)) and Trombone (Tbn.) play a harmonic line, with the Trombone marked mf. Timpani (Timp.) is silent. Violin I (Vn.I) plays a melodic line with trills (tr) in measures 153 and 154. Violin II (Vn.II), Viola (Va.), Violoncello (Vc.), and Double Bass (D.B.) play a harmonic line. The score includes various musical notations such as trills, slurs, and dynamic markings.

Enter PISH-TUSH.

PISH. And what may be your business with Yum-Yum?

NANK. I'll tell you. A year ago I was a member of the Titipu town band. It was my duty to take the cap round for contributions. While discharging this delicate office, I saw Yum-Yum. We loved each other at once, but she was betrothed to her guardian Ko-Ko, a cheap tailor, and I saw that my suit was hopeless. Overwhelmed with despair, I quitted the town. Judge of my delight when I heard, a month ago, that Ko-Ko had been condemned to death for flirting! I hurried back at once, in the hope of finding Yum-Yum at liberty to listen to my protestations.

PISH. It is true that Ko-Ko was condemned to death for flirting, but he was reprieved at the last moment, and raised to the exalted rank of Lord High Executioner under the following remarkable circumstances:

The musical score is for a piece titled '№ 3: "Our great Mikado, virtuous man"'. It is a song featuring 'Pish-Tush' and a 'Chorus of Men'. The tempo is 'Allegro con brio'. The score is written for a large orchestra and includes vocal parts. The instruments listed are: 1st Flute, Piccolo, Oboe, Clarinet in A, Bassoon, Horns in F, Trumpets in B, Trombones, Triangle, Pish-Tush, Tenors/Basses, Violino I, Violino II, Viola, Violoncello, and Contrabbasso. The key signature is one sharp (F#) and the time signature is 2/4. The score is divided into two systems. The first system includes the woodwinds, brass, triangle, and vocal parts. The second system includes the strings. The vocal parts (Pish-Tush, Tenors/Basses) are shown as empty staves, indicating they are to be filled in by the performers. The instrumental parts are written with various dynamics, including ff (fortissimo) and f (forte). The woodwinds and strings play complex, rhythmic patterns, while the brass plays a steady, rhythmic accompaniment. The triangle plays a series of short, sharp strokes. The vocal parts are to be performed by the Pish-Tush and the Chorus of Men.

Exeunt CHORUS.

Enter POOH-BAH.

NANK. Ko-Ko, the cheap tailor, Lord High Executioner of Titipu! Why, that's the highest rank a citizen can attain!

POOH. It is. Our logical Mikado, seeing no moral difference between the dignified judge who condemns a criminal to die, and the industrious mechanic who carries out the sentence, has rolled the two offices into one, and every judge is now his own executioner.

NANK. But how good of you (for I see that you are a nobleman of the highest rank) to condescend to tell all this to me, a mere strolling minstrel!

POOH. Don't mention it. I am, in point of fact, a particularly haughty and exclusive person, of pre-Adamite ancestral descent. You will understand this when I tell you that I can trace my ancestry back to a protoplasmal primordial atomic globule. Consequently, my family pride is something inconceivable. I can't help it. I was born sneering. But I struggle hard to overcome this defect. I mortify my pride continually. When all the great officers of State resigned in a body because they were too proud to serve under an ex-tailor, did I not unhesitatingly accept all their posts at once?

PISH. And the salaries attached to them? You did.

POOH. It is consequently my degrading duty to serve this upstart as First Lord of the Treasury, Lord Chief Justice, Commander-in-Chief, Lord High Admiral, Master of the Buckhounds, Groom of the Back Stairs, Archbishop of Titipu, and Lord Mayor, both acting and elect, all rolled into one. And at a salary! A Pooh-Bah paid for his services! I a salaried minion! But I do it! It revolts me, but I do it!

NANK. And it does you credit.

POOH. But I don't stop at that. I go and dine with middle-class people on reasonable terms. I dance at cheap suburban parties for a moderate fee. I accept refreshment at any hands, however lowly. I also retail State secrets at a very low figure. For instance, any further information about Yum-Yum would come under the head of a State secret. (NANKI-POO takes his hint, and gives him money.) (Aside.) Another insult and, I think, a light one!

№ 4: “Young man, despair, likewise go to”

Song (Pooh-Bah, with Nanki-Poo and Pish-Tush)

Allegro moderato (Tempo di Minuetto)

This musical score is for a piece titled "№ 4: 'Young man, despair, likewise go to'" by the songwriters Pooh-Bah, Nanki-Poo, and Pish-Tush. The tempo is marked "Allegro moderato (Tempo di Minuetto)". The score is written for a full orchestra and includes vocal parts for Pooh-Bah, Nanki-Poo, and Pish-Tush. The key signature is one flat (B-flat major or D minor), and the time signature is 3/4. The score is divided into five systems. The first system includes staves for 1st Flute, Piccolo, Oboe, Clarinets in A, Bassoon, Horns in F, Trumpets in B, Trombones, Side Drum, Pooh-Bah, Nanki-Poo, Pish-Tush, 1st Violins, 2nd Violins, Violas, Violoncellos, and Double Basses. The second system includes staves for 1st Flute, Piccolo, Oboe, Clarinets in A, Bassoon, Horns in F, Trumpets in B, Trombones, Side Drum, Pooh-Bah, Nanki-Poo, Pish-Tush, 1st Violins, 2nd Violins, Violas, Violoncellos, and Double Basses. The third system includes staves for 1st Flute, Piccolo, Oboe, Clarinets in A, Bassoon, Horns in F, Trumpets in B, Trombones, Side Drum, Pooh-Bah, Nanki-Poo, Pish-Tush, 1st Violins, 2nd Violins, Violas, Violoncellos, and Double Basses. The fourth system includes staves for 1st Flute, Piccolo, Oboe, Clarinets in A, Bassoon, Horns in F, Trumpets in B, Trombones, Side Drum, Pooh-Bah, Nanki-Poo, Pish-Tush, 1st Violins, 2nd Violins, Violas, Violoncellos, and Double Basses. The fifth system includes staves for 1st Flute, Piccolo, Oboe, Clarinets in A, Bassoon, Horns in F, Trumpets in B, Trombones, Side Drum, Pooh-Bah, Nanki-Poo, Pish-Tush, 1st Violins, 2nd Violins, Violas, Violoncellos, and Double Basses. The score features various musical notations including dynamics (f, p), articulation (tr), and phrasing slurs.

The musical score is for a recitative piece. It features a large orchestral ensemble with woodwinds (Flutes, Oboe, Clarinets, Bassoon), brass (Horns, Trumpets, Trombones), percussion (Bass Drum & Cymbals), and strings (Violins, Violas, Violoncellos, Double Basses). The vocal parts for Nanki-Poo and Pooh-Bah are also included. The score is written in common time (C) and begins with a recitative section. The vocal parts enter with the lyrics: 'And have I journey'd for a month, or near-ly, To learn that Yum-Yum, whom I love so dear-ly, This day to'. The instrumental parts provide a harmonic and rhythmic accompaniment, with the strings playing a steady bass line and the woodwinds and brass providing harmonic support.

KO-KO Gentlemen, I'm much touched by this reception. I can only trust that by strict attention to duty I shall ensure a continuance of those favours which it will ever be my study to deserve. If I should ever be called upon to act professionally, I am happy to think that there will be no difficulty in finding plenty of people whose loss will be a distinct gain to society at large.

In his book The Annotated Gilbert & Sullivan (ISBN 0140708480; published in 1982 by Penguin Books), Ian Bradley writes:

Ko-Ko's "Little List" song has almost certainly been altered more than any other number in the Savoy Operas. Gilbert originally wrote it to be sung much earlier in Act I, after the trio "To sit in solemn silence", and it appears there in the licence copy sent to the Lord Chamberlain. For the opening performance it was moved slightly forward so that it came after Yum-Yum and Nanki-Poo's duet "Were you not to Ko-Ko plighted". However, after only a few performances it was moved again to its present position, with the words being considerably altered.

Apart from these changes, Gilbert also made several alterations to the song during his lifetime, substituting various topical allusions for the phrase "lady novelist" and adding a whole new verse in 1908. The practice of introducing up-to-date references has continued ever since, and in 1948 the D'Oyly Carte Opera Company felt obliged to make a change to the wording of the second verse for reasons of taste.

As originally written, when it was conceived that Ko-Ko would sing the song after receiving word from the Mikado that he must carry out an execution within a month, the first verse began:

As it seems to be essential that a victim must be found,
I've got a little list—I've got a little list
Of social offenders who might well be underground,
And who never would be missed—who never would be missed!

That version was sung by George Grossmith on the opening night but was changed soon after to the present opening when the song was moved.

The version of Ko-Ko's "Little List" song that appears in Sullivan's autograph score is written in D major; the key was changed to E $\flat$ major when it was moved to its present position to avoid a clash with "Behold the Lord High Executioner". One other minor change was also made: the descending scale that now serves as a play-out to the whole song was originally played at the end of all three verses; it is not clear when or why this was done.

Song (Ko-Ko, with Chorus of Men)

Enter POOH-BAH.

- KO-KO Pooh-Bah, it seems that the festivities in connection with my approaching marriage must last a week. I should like to do it handsomely, and I want to consult you as to the amount I ought to spend upon them.
- POOH. Certainly. In which of my capacities? As First Lord of the Treasury, Lord Chamberlain, Attorney General, Chancellor of the Exchequer, Privy Purse, or Private Secretary?
- KO-KO Suppose we say as Private Secretary.
- POOH. Speaking as your Private Secretary, I should say that, as the city will have to pay for it, don't stint yourself, do it well.
- KO-KO Exactly—as the city will have to pay for it. That is your advice.
- POOH. As Private Secretary. Of course you will understand that, as Chancellor of the Exchequer, I am bound to see that due economy is observed.
- KO-KO Oh! But you said just now "Don't stint yourself, do it well".
- POOH. As Private Secretary.
- KO-KO And now you say that due economy must be observed.
- POOH. As Chancellor of the Exchequer.
- KO-KO I see. Come over here, where the Chancellor can't hear us. (They cross the stage.) Now, as my Solicitor, how do you advise me to deal with this difficulty?
- POOH. Oh, as your Solicitor, I should have no hesitation in saying "Chance it—"
- KO-KO Thank you. (Shaking his hand.) I will.
- POOH. If it were not that, as Lord Chief Justice, I am bound to see that the law isn't violated.
- KO-KO I see. Come over here where the Chief Justice can't hear us. (They cross the stage.) Now, then, as First Lord of the Treasury?

POOH. Of course, as First Lord of the Treasury, I could propose a special vote that would cover all expenses, if it were not that, as Leader of the Opposition, it would be my duty to resist it, tooth and nail. Or, as Paymaster General, I could so cook the accounts that, as Lord High Auditor, I should never discover the fraud. But then, as Archbishop of Titipu, it would be my duty to denounce my dishonesty and give myself into my own custody as first Commissioner of Police.

KO-KO That's extremely awkward.

POOH. I don't say that all these distinguished people couldn't be squared; but it is right to tell you that they wouldn't be sufficiently degraded in their own estimation unless they were insulted with a very considerable bribe.

KO-KO The matter shall have my careful consideration. But my bride and her sisters approach, and any little compliment on your part, such as an abject grovel in a characteristic Japanese attitude, would be esteemed a favour.

POOH. No money—no grovel!

Exeunt together.

Enter procession of YUM-YUM's schoolfellows, heralding

№ 7: “Three little maids from school are we”

Trio (Yum-Yum, Peep-Bo and Pitti-Sing, with Chorus of Girls)

Allegretto grazioso

The musical score is for a piece titled "№ 7: 'Three little maids from school are we'" by a Trio, featuring Yum-Yum, Peep-Bo and Pitti-Sing, with Chorus of Girls. The tempo is Allegretto grazioso. The score is written for a large ensemble, including woodwinds, brass, strings, and percussion. The key signature has two flats (B-flat and E-flat), and the time signature is 2/4. The score is divided into six measures. The woodwinds (1st Flute, Piccolo, Oboe, Clarinets in A, Bassoon) and strings (1st Violins, 2nd Violins, Violas, Violoncellos, Double Basses) play a rhythmic pattern of eighth notes. The percussion (Triangle) plays a simple pattern of eighth notes. The vocal parts (Yum-Yum, Peep-Bo, Pitti-Sing) are silent throughout the piece. The dynamics are marked p (piano) and mf (mezzo-forte).

Enter KO-KO and POOH-BAH.

KO-KO At last, my bride that is to be! (About to embrace her.)

YUM. You're not going to kiss me before all these people?

KO-KO Well, that was the idea.

YUM. (aside to PEEP-BO). It seems odd, doesn't it?

PEEP. It's rather peculiar.

PITTI. Oh, I expect it's all right. Must have a beginning, you know.

YUM. Well, of course I know nothing about these things; but I've no objection if it's usual.

KO-KO Oh, it's quite usual, I think. Eh, Lord Chamberlain? (Appealing to POOH-BAH.)

POOH. I have known it done. (KO-KO embraces her.)

YUM. Thank goodness that's over! (Sees NANKI-POO, and rushes to him.) Why, that's never you? (The three Girls rush to him and shake his hands, all speaking at once.)

{ YUM. Oh, I'm so glad! I haven't seen you for ever so long, and I'm right at the top of the school, and I've got three prizes, and I've come home for good, and I'm not going back any more!

{ PEEP. And have you got an engagement?—Yum-Yum's got one, but she doesn't like it, and she'd ever so much rather it was you! I've come home for good, and I'm not going back any more!

{ PITTI. Now tell us all the news, because you go about everywhere, and we've been at school, but, thank goodness, that's all over now, and we've come home for good, and we're not going back any more!

(These three speeches are spoken together in one breath.)

KO-KO I beg your pardon. Will you present me?

YUM. Oh, this is the musician who used—

PEEP. Oh, this is the gentleman-who used—

PITTI. Oh, it is only Nanki-Poo who used—

KO-KO One at a time, if you please.

YUM. Oh, if you please he's the gentleman who used to play so beautifully on the— on the—

PITTI. On the Marine Parade.

YUM. Yes, I think that was the name of the instrument.

NANK. Sir, I have the misfortune to love your ward, Yum-Yum—oh, I know I deserve your anger!

KO-KO Anger! not a bit, my boy. Why, I love her myself. Charming little girl, isn't she? Pretty eyes, nice hair. Taking little thing, altogether. Very glad to hear my opinion backed by a competent authority. Thank you very much. Good-bye. (To PISH-TUSH.) Take him away. (PISH-TUSH removes him.)

PITTI. (who has been examining POOH-BAH.) I beg your pardon, but what is this? Customer come to try on?

KO-KO That is a Tremendous Swell.

PITTI. Oh, it's alive. (She starts back in alarm.)

POOH. Go away, little girls. Can't talk to little girls like you. Go away, there's dears.

KO-KO Allow me to present you, Pooh-Bah. These are my three wards. The one in the middle is my bride elect.

POOH. What do you want me to do to them? Mind, I will not kiss them.

KO-KO No, no, you shan't kiss them; a little bow—a mere nothing—you needn't mean it, you know.

POOH. It goes against the grain. They are not young ladies, they are young persons.

KO-KO Come, come, make an effort, there's a good nobleman.

POOH. (aside to KO-KO.) Well, I shan't mean it. (with a great effort.) How d'ye do, little girls, how d'ye do? (Aside.) Oh, my protoplasmal ancestor!

KO-KO That's very good. (Girls indulge in suppressed laughter.)

POOH. I see nothing to laugh at. It is very painful to me to have to say "How d'ye do, little girls, how d'ye do?" to young persons. I'm not in the habit of saying "How d'ye do, little girls, how d'ye do?" to anybody under the rank of a Stockbroker.

KO-KO (aside to girls.) Don't laugh at him, he can't help it—he's under treatment for it.
(Aside to POOH-BAH.) Never mind them, they don't understand the delicacy of your position.

POOH. We know how delicate it is, don't we?

KO-KO I should think we did! How a nobleman of your importance can do it at all is a thing I never can, never shall understand.

(KO-KO retires and goes off.)

The Quintet “So please you, Sir, we much regret”, which follows here, is more usually sung without PISH-TUSH in contemporary performances.

The musical score is for a piece titled "№ 8: 'So please you, Sir, we much regret'" by a Quintet consisting of Yum-Yum, Peep-Bo, Pitti-Sing, Pooh-Bah, and Pish-Tush, with a Chorus of Girls. The tempo is marked "Allegro con brio". The score is written for a full orchestra and vocal soloists. The woodwind section includes 1st Flute, Piccolo, Oboe, Clarinet in A (marked "a 2"), and Bassoon, all starting with a forte (f) dynamic. The brass section includes Horns in F, also starting with a forte (f) dynamic. The percussion section includes a Triangle. The vocal soloists (Yum-Yum, Peep-Bo, Pitti-Sing, Pooh-Bah, and Pish-Tush) and a Soprano are listed but have no notation in this excerpt. The string section includes 1st Violins, 2nd Violins, Violas, Violoncellos, and Double Basses, all starting with a forte (f) dynamic. The score is in 2/4 time and G major.

Exeunt all but YUM-YUM. Enter NANKI-POO.

- NANKI. Yum-Yum, at last we are alone! I have sought you night and day for three weeks, in the belief that your guardian was beheaded, and I find that you are about to be married to him this afternoon!
- YUM. Alas, yes!
- NANKI. But you do not love him?
- YUM. Alas, no!
- NANKI. Modified rapture! But why do you not refuse him?
- YUM. What good would that do? He's my guardian, and he wouldn't let me marry you!
- NANKI. But I would wait until you were of age!
- YUM. You forget that in Japan girls do not arrive at years of discretion until they are fifty.
- NANKI. True; from seventeen to forty-nine are considered years of indiscretion.
- YUM. Besides—a wandering minstrel, who plays a wind instrument outside tea-houses, is hardly a fitting husband for the ward of a Lord High Executioner.
- NANKI. But— (Aside.) Shall I tell her? Yes! She will not betray me! (Aloud.) What if it should prove that, after all, I am no musician?
- YUM. There! I was certain of it, directly I heard you play!
- NANKI. What if it should prove that I am no other than the son of his Majesty the Mikado?
- YUM. The son of the Mikado! But why is your Highness disguised? And what has your Highness done? And will your Highness promise never to do it again?
- NANKI. Some years ago I had the misfortune to captivate Katisha, an elderly lady of my father's Court. She misconstrued my customary affability into expressions of affection, and claimed me in marriage, under my father's law. My father, the Lucius Junius Brutus of his race, ordered me to marry her within a week, or perish ignominiously on the scaffold. That night I fled his Court, and, assuming the disguise of a Second Trombone, I joined the band in which you found me when I had the happiness of seeing you! (Approaching her.)
- YUM. (retreating.) If you please, I think your Highness had better not come too near. The laws against flirting are excessively severe.

NANKI. But we are quite alone, and nobody can see us.

YUM. Still, that don't make it right. To flirt is capital.

NANKI. It is capital!

YUM. And we must obey the law.

NANKI. Deuce take the law!

YUM. I wish it would, but it won't!

NANKI. If it were not for that, how happy we might be!

YUM. Happy indeed!

NANKI. If it were not for the law, we should now be sitting side by side, like that. (Sits by her.)

YUM. Instead of being obliged to sit half a mile off, like that. (Crosses and sits at other side of stage.)

NANKI. We should be gazing into each other's eyes, like that. (Gazing at her sentimentally.)

YUM. Breathing sighs of unutterable love—like that. (Sighing and gazing lovingly at him.)

NANKI. With our arms round each other's waists, like that. (Embracing her.)

YUM. Yes, if it wasn't for the law.

NANKI. If it wasn't for the law.

YUM. As it is, of course we couldn't do anything of the kind.

NANKI. Not for worlds!

YUM. Being engaged to Ko-Ko, you know!

NANKI. Being engaged to Ko-Ko!

In the Duet “Were I/you not to Ko-Ko plighted” which follows next, it is usual to cut bars 3 (page 231) through 57 (page 238), and for Nanki-Poo to sing the second line of lyrics, printed in italics, in bars 58-65.

Exeunt in opposite directions.

Enter KO-KO.

KO-KO (looking after YUM-YUM) There she goes! To think how entirely my future happiness is wrapped up in that little parcel! Really, it hardly seems worth while! Oh, matrimony! — (Enter POOH-BAH and PISH-TUSH.) Now then, what is it? Can't you see I'm soliloquizing? You have interrupted an apostrophe, sir!

PISH. I am the bearer of a letter from his Majesty the Mikado.

KO-KO (taking it from him reverentially.) A letter from the Mikado! What in the world can he have to say to me? (Reads letter.) Ah, here it is at last! I thought it would come sooner or later! The Mikado is struck by the fact that no executions have taken place in Titipu for a year, and decrees that unless somebody is beheaded within one month the post of Lord High Executioner shall be abolished, and the city reduced to the rank of a village!

PISH. But that will involve us all in irretrievable ruin!

KO-KO Yes. There is no help for it, I shall have to execute somebody at once. The only question is, who shall it be?

POOH. Well, it seems unkind to say so, but as you're already under sentence of death for flirting, everything seems to point to you.

KO-KO To me? What are you talking about? I can't execute myself.

POOH. Why not?

KO-KO Why not? Because, in the first place, self-decapitation is an extremely difficult, not to say dangerous, thing to attempt; and, in the second, it's suicide, and suicide is a capital offence.

POOH. That is so, no doubt.

PISH. We might reserve that point.

POOH. True, it could be argued six months hence, before the full Court.

KO-KO Besides, I don't see how a man can cut off his own head.

POOH. A man might try.

PISH. Even if you only succeeded in cutting it half off, that would be something.

POOH. It would be taken as an earnest of your desire to comply with the Imperial will.

KO-KO No. Pardon me, but there I am adamant. As official Headsman, my reputation is at stake, and I can't consent to embark on a professional operation unless I see my way to a successful result.

POOH. This professional conscientiousness is highly creditable to you, but it places us in a very awkward position.

KO-KO My good sir, the awkwardness of your position is grace itself compared with that of a man engaged in the act of cutting off his own head.

PISH. I am afraid that, unless you can obtain a substitute—

KO-KO A substitute? Oh, certainly—nothing easier. (To POOH-BAH.) Pooh-Bah, I appoint you Lord High Substitute.

POOH. I should be delighted. Such an appointment would realize my fondest dreams. But no, at any sacrifice, I must set bounds to my insatiable ambition!

№ 10: “I am so proud”

Trio (Ko-Ko, Pooh-Bah and Pish-Tush)

Allegro, non troppo vivace

The musical score is arranged for a full orchestra and three vocal soloists. The tempo is marked 'Allegro, non troppo vivace'. The key signature has two sharps (F# and C#), and the time signature is common time (C). The score is divided into two systems. The first system includes staves for 1st Flute, 2nd Flute, Oboe, Clarinet in A, Bassoon, Horns in F, Trumpets in Bb, Trombones, Timpani in Bb, Ko-Ko, Pooh-Bah, and Pish-Tush. The second system includes staves for 1st Violins, 2nd Violins, Violas, Violoncellos, and Double Basses. The vocal soloists have lyrics written below their staves. The orchestration features a variety of instruments, including woodwinds, brass, percussion, and strings. The vocal soloists have lyrics written below their staves. The score is written in a standard musical notation with various dynamics and articulations.

- KO-KO This is simply appalling! I, who allowed myself to be respited at the last moment, simply in order to benefit my native town, am now required to die within a month, and that by a man whom I have loaded with honours! Is this public gratitude? Is this—(Enter NANKI-POO, with a rope in his hands.) Go away, sir! How dare you? Am I never to be permitted to soliloquize?
- NANK. Oh, go on—don't mind me.
- KO-KO What are you going to do with that rope?
- NANK. I am about to terminate an unendurable existence.
- KO-KO Terminate your existence? Oh, nonsense! What for?
- NANK. Because you are going to marry the girl I adore.
- KO-KO Nonsense, sir. I won't permit it. I am a humane man, and if you attempt anything of the kind I shall order your instant arrest. Come, sir, desist at once or I summon my guard.
- NANK. That's absurd. If you attempt to raise an alarm, I instantly perform the Happy Despatch with this dagger.
- KO-KO No, no, don't do that. This is horrible! (Suddenly.) Why, you cold-blooded scoundrel, are you aware that, in taking your life, you are committing a crime which—which—which is—Oh! (Struck by an idea.) Substitute!
- NANK. What's the matter?
- KO-KO Is it absolutely certain that you are resolved to die?
- NANK. Absolutely!
- KO-KO Will nothing shake your resolution?
- NANK. Nothing.
- KO-KO Threats, entreaties, prayers—all useless?
- NANK. All! My mind is made up.

KO-KO Then, if you really mean what you say, and if you are absolutely resolved to die, and if nothing whatever will shake your determination—don't spoil yourself by committing suicide, but be beheaded handsomely at the hands of the Public Executioner!

NANK. I don't see how that would benefit me.

KO-KO You don't? Observe: you'll have a month to live, and you'll live like a fighting-cock at my expense. When the day comes there'll be a grand public ceremonial—you'll be the central figure—no one will attempt to deprive you of that distinction. There'll be a procession—bands—dead march—bells tolling—all the girls in tears—Yum-Yum distracted—then, when it's all over, general rejoicings, and a display of fireworks in the evening. You won't see them, but they'll be there all the same.

NANK. Do you think Yum-Yum would really be distracted at my death?

KO-KO I am convinced of it. Bless you, she's the most tender-hearted little creature alive.

NANK. I should be sorry to cause her pain. Perhaps, after all, if I were to withdraw from Japan, and travel in Europe for a couple of years, I might contrive to forget her.

KO-KO Oh, I don't think you could forget Yum-Yum so easily; and, after all, what is more miserable than a love-blighted life?

NANK. True.

KO-KO Life without Yum-Yum—why, it seems absurd!

NANK. And yet there are a good many people in the world who have to endure it.

KO-KO Poor devils, yes! You are quite right not to be of their number.

NANK. (Suddenly.) I won't be of their number!

KO-KO Noble fellow!

NANK. I'll tell you how we'll manage it. Let me marry Yum-Yum to-morrow, and in a month you may behead me.

KO-KO No, no. I draw the line at Yum-Yum.

NANK. Very good. If you can draw the line, so can I. (Preparing rope.)

KO-KO Stop, stop—listen one moment—be reasonable. How can I consent to your marrying Yum-Yum if I'm going to marry her myself?

NANK. My good friend, she'll be a widow in a month, and you can marry her then.

KO-KO That's true, of course. I quite see that. But, dear me! my position during the next month will be most unpleasant—most unpleasant.

NANK. Not half so unpleasant as my position at the end of it.

KO-KO But—dear me!—well—I agree—after all, it's only putting off my wedding for a month. But you won't prejudice her against me, will you? You see, I've educated her to be my wife; she's been taught to regard me as a wise and good man. Now I shouldn't like her views on that point disturbed.

NANK. Trust me, she shall never learn the truth from me.

Enter CHORUS, POOH-BAH, and PISH-TUSH.
